

FILE

These authors do not address the relationship, which is central, I believe, to efforts to combat the use of torture, and instead consider whether the proposed measures will come about. I return to this question in the final section of the paper.

100

